Maryville Road bid call ready

The Maryville Road extension from Pontoon Road to Highway 160—a joint city-county project that has been in the planning stage for more than 10 years—is about to become a reality.

Bids for the project will be called over a three-week period beginning Monday, July 19, with bids scheduled to be opened during the second week of August, the Press-Record learned Friday. Preparation for the bid call was made by the Madison County Highway Department after Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City notified the City Council last week that all of the right-of-way required by the city for its portion of the roadway improvement has been obtained.

The job will be advertised in the State Highway Bulletin in three consecutive weekly publications, according to David Dietzel, assistant to County Highway Superintendent Lester Miller.

The County Highway Department will handle all details of the work, including the bidding, contract award, construction and financing. The project will be financed with motor fuel tax funds, with the city paying its share to the county as its MFT allocations become available. City payments to the county are to be made at a rate of $10,000 per month.

When the Maryville Road project was originated, total cost was estimated at $2.5 million, with the cost to the city estimated at $350,000. Because of increases in construction costs over the years the project has been developed, the cost estimate is now about $4 million, with the city expected to pay $800,000 to $1 million.

Dietzel said all design planning for the project has been completed. Relocation of utility lines and survey work also is under way along portions of the Maryville Road right-of-way.

He said that residents living along the right-of-way should be aware that men working along the easements, surveying and driving stakes, are employees of the highway department.

The new four-lane highway connecting the present Maryville Road at Pontoon with Highway 162, will provide a highly improved traffic route skirting the eastern edge of

Levee district to route sewage to GC treatment plant

A plan under which the East Side Levee District would route all sewage now treated at the Lansdowne treatment plant to the Granite City Secondary Sewage Treatment plant has been adopted by the East Side Levee District board, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

The levee board has authorized advertisement for statements of qualifications from engineering firms to handle design planning for such a project, although the program still is subject to approval by state and federal Environmental Protection Agencies.

Jack Scoville, president of the levee board, told the Press-Record that he and the other two members of the board, William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice and Russell Robinson of Granite City are in agreement that "this is the way we should go" in solving the district's secondary sewage treatment problem.

The Lansdowne sewage treatment plant now operated by the levee district serves National City, Washington Park, Farmington City, Venice and Madison, as well as other areas in Stites and Canteen Townships. The plant treats

MOUNTING RIVER TRAFFIC on the Granite City waterfront is setting new records as the shipment of commercial freight movements through the Chain of Rocks locks and canal during May totaled 6,741,039 tons, the largest freight movement of any single month since freight records were begun in 1954. It also was the first month in which freight shipments passed the 6-million ton mark. The southbound barges shown here carry both bulk and liquid commodities, with grain predominating the downriver shipments.

River traffic on rise; new record freight shipments

A steadily increasing volume of freight shipments is moving through the Chain of Rocks locks and canal here with commercial freight tonnage setting new records on a month-to-month basis, according to reports released by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which operates the locks and canal.

During the first five months of this year—January through May—a total of 25,949,111 tons of commercial freight were loaded through the canal, an increase of 4,590,228 tons over shipments of 21,358,885 tons moving through the locks during the same period a year ago, the report showed.

May traffic in freight shipments set a new record of 6,741,039 tons, the largest amount of commercial freight shipped through the locks in any single month since freight traffic records were begun in 1954.

It was the first time that freight movements of a single month topped 6 million tons.

The previous record for a single month was set in October of last year when freight shipments loaded through the Chain of Rocks canal totaled 5,937,466 tons.

May freight shipments, the last month for which statistics are now available, included movement of 2,269,894 tons up river and 4,466,145 tons down river.

Bulk of the downriver traffic was in grain shipments totaling 3,708,180 tons, according to the report. Major shipments in upriver traffic included 629,790 tons of iron ore.

'Nom de plumes' of the air waves

Illinois lawmakers don't have legislative immunity from the Citizens Band radio bug that has infected the nation.

More than two dozen House members and an undetermined number of state senators now are using CB to chat away the hours on long drives to and from Springfield and to keep each other posted on the whereabouts of "Smokes."

To aid the lawmakers in identifying each other on the radio, Rep. Donald Totten, R-Hoffman Estates, has compiled a list of his House colleagues' "handles"—their "nom de plumes" of the airwaves.

Totten so far has 26 other House members on his list and says the Senators are compiling a similar list of their members so there can be some inter and intra-chamber dialogue on the highways.

"Governor Don" is the handle Totten uses. It's not so much an indication of latent political ambitions as it is a means of arousing interest among other CB'ers, Totten says.

Some of his fellow (and sister) House members have equally interesting handles.

"Chatterbox" is the moniker used by Virginia MacDonald, R-Arlington Heights. Mary Lou Kent, a Republican from the Mississippi River city of Quincy, comes on the airwaves

Boy, 11, dies in auto crash

A one-car accident Friday night on Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, resulted in death to Noel "Jonathan" Ziegler, 11, of 839 Thorngate Drive. He was pronounced dead at the scene at 10:38 p.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner Ed Werner.

County authorities said the youth was a passenger in a Westbound auto driven by David A. Beasley, 16, of Rural Route Two, Granite City, which failed to negotiate a sharp curve, left the roadway and overturned. Ziegler was pinned under the vehicle.

The driver and another passenger, Joel Ziegler, 14, also of 839 Thorngate Drive, escaped injury. Beasley, however, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here and treated for an emotional condition, as was the dead youth's sister, Mrs. Les (Carla) Martin, 25, of the Thorngate Drive address. Mrs. Martin was not a passenger in the vehicle.

Reward in Kube slaying

A $1,000 reward has been posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murders of an elderly couple in the couple's home at 25th and Iowa streets March 4.

A committee of concerned citizens raised the money and has turned it over to the custody of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, 1831 Delmar Ave.

The Granite City Police Department will evaluate the value of information received and make the reward recommendation to the citizens.

Richard Kube, 79, and his wife, Anna Kube, 83, were found in the basement of their home the evening of March 4 with electrical cords from steam irons wrapped up tightly around their necks. Death was believed to be from strangulation.

Mrs. Kube also had her hands tied behind her back with white medical tape.

Interviews with numerous witnesses revealed that the Kubes went shopping that day with a woman friend and cashed their Social Security checks at a downtown Granite City bank. They then did their grocery shopping and a man friend gave them a ride back home.

Police believe that after the man let the couple out at the Kube home and drove away, one or more persons entered their home and killed them.

"We have not been able to determine if anything was stolen," a spokesman said.

A woman visiting a neighbor looked in a basement window, saw a body and notified police, who found the couple dead at 5:50 p.m. March 4.

Frozen food in grocery bags on the table was undisturbed still cool when the bodies were found.

A full investigation has been under way by the Granite City Police Department since the murders.

Many people have been questioned, dozens have undergone polygraph (lie detector) tests, and hundreds of items of physical evidence have been processed in the state crime laboratory.

Police are closely guarding the nature of much of their evidence and of their theories, but have disclosed that they believe a middle-aged man and a woman may have been involved.

Efforts are continuing to locate two men, appearing to be workmen, who seemed to be studying the foundation of the Kube home early on the afternoon of the murders. Officers believe these men may have information which could aid the investigation.

Captain William Condis, chief of the Granite City detectives, said every lead given to the police has been checked thoroughly but additional information is needed.

"We are hopeful this reward will bring some people forward who have the information we need, but have not found the time or taken the trouble to tell us what they know," Condis said.

"What we have here is a very complicated jigsaw puzzle with some very essential pieces missing."

"Some people out there have small shreds of information which will fill important holes in the puzzle, even though they might not realize just how important that information is," he continued.

"Any information on people, vehicles or occurrences in that vicinity on March 4 can be

War spurred area steel output

(56th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

For Granite City Steel, as for most American industry, the impact of the Second World War was felt before Pearl Harbor.

The war in Europe began in August 1939, and by 1940 American business was influenced both directly, through the start of defense production, and indirectly, through a general speed-up of the world's economy.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, it became apparent that the Second World War was a total war in every sense. It involved the full resources of the nation. A maze of boards, commissions and committees was set up by the federal government to coordinate the economic efforts of the nation's productive forces.

Conversion to war production necessitated the "shifting" of tools, equipment, facilities, manhours and floor space of industry. But, fortunately, two years of preparation and of selling equipment to the Allies had its effect.

With America's entry into the war, the whole program proceeded with unexpected speed.

Although the nation had an ample supply of iron resources and a production capacity greater than that of any nation in the world, the fantastic demand for steel products outdistanced the supply.

Steel was in demand for virtually everything—ships, shells, pipelines, etc.—so necessary in the great global conflict.

Fortunately, the situation improved through increased capacity, better utilization of scrap metal, and the channeling of steel into war production rather than civilian commodities, through an intricate priority and allocation system which governed the distribution of steel among essential users.

Every succeeding year saw a new production record for the steel industry in the United States.

1940—65 million ingot tons produced.
1941—82 million tons.
1942—95 million.
1943—88 million.

BORING JOB? Not really, but it will take a great deal of time for workmen to complete repairs to the main 110-foot-wide lock at Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal here. Workmen are shown here inside the 82-foot-deep lock, boring holes in the four-foot-deep concrete walls to a cavity inside the walls. The cavity will be filled with concrete to strengthen the lock walls. The main 1,200-foot-long lock was closed June 16 to remove the water for the repair task.

"The Double Dipper" is the unabashed handle of Harry "Bus" Yourell, a Democrat from Oak Lawn who is an administrative assistant to the Cook County recorder of deeds when he isn't in Springfield making laws.

One might conclude Democrats Tom Hashaban of McHenry and Monroe Flinn of Cahokia have their eyes on the upper chamber because they both take to the airwaves as "The Senator." Flinn works at Granite City Steel.

Rep. Charles Keller, D-Effingham, apparently is game for any office; he identifies himself as "The Candidate."

"The Errand Boy" is the self-effacing title used by Rep. Richard Hart, a Benton Democrat who represents the same district as the better known former Democratic leader Clyde Choele of Anna.

Ted Leverett, a Maywood Democrat, is considerably less modest. "Captain America" is his handle.

Two of the legislators really have the "spirit." Richard Mulcahy, a Durand Democrat, is "Double Martini," and John Hirschfeld, a Champaign (not Champagne) Republican, is "The Beer Mug."

Hirschfeld and LeRoy Van Duyn, a Joliet Democrat, should get together. Van Duyn is "Hot Dog."

But the lawmaker whose handle probably best typifies the spirit of the legislature in its summer deliberations is John Porter, an Evanston Republican.

He's known to the CB'ers as "Down Hill Racer."

Playground centers 'Junior Olympics' Saturday at park

Children in the summer recreation program, sponsored by the Granite City Park District, will make a trip to the St. Louis Zoo on Tuesday, Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, area supervisor, reported.

Today, members of playground all-star softball teams are playing on Diamond 8 at Wilson Park.

A "world series" is scheduled July 22, pitting the "American League" teams of Parkview, Logan, Nameoki and Wilson centers against "National League" teams from Webster, Marshall, Niedringhaus and Community Center.

Mrs. Bjorkman said the traditional "Junior Olympics" tournament is set for Saturday, July 17, at 9 a.m., on Diamond 8 at Wilson Park.

Participants representing their playground center are asked to bring a sack lunch. All contestants may take part in a free swim period at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The youthful competitors will march with the playground flags to the bleacher area before the races and field events commence.

Contests will include sack races, dashes, co-ed shuttles, hurdles, soccer kicking, standing and long jump, three jump and softball roll. Trophies will be presented to the winners.

Don Detering will serve as the official scorer. Members of the summer recreational staff will act as judges and in other capacities.

The public is invited to attend the "Junior Olympics" program, Mrs. Bjorkman said.

Handicapped need help by Tuesday

An appeal for $300 to help 16 Quad-City Handicapped special education students to participate in Chicago in a "Special Olympics" begins Friday is being made, according to Kay Hahne, president of Parents of Special Education.

"We are $300 short of our goal and time is running out as we have to have the money by 3 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. I am appealing to the public to help us send these handicapped children to Chicago," Mrs. Hahne said.

"I will stay by my telephone until 3 p.m. on Tuesday. Persons wishing to help the children can call me at 451-9632 or stop by my home at 1631 Second St., Madison.

"We are doing our best not to disappoint the children as they need this program if only to show that even handicapped can be of use in the world."

The problem allegedly was caused by two organizations who reportedly promised to help with funds, but did not.

Mrs. Janet Young condition is fair

Mrs. Janet Young, 31, of 32 Wilson Park Drive, was in fair condition today at Barnes Hospital, recuperating from a gunshot wound suffered in her home Thursday.

Her husband, Al, who is on disability leave from the Granite City Police Department, and the couple's 10-year-old daughter were at home when Mrs. Young went into a bedroom and a shot was heard, according to official reports.

Young kicked open the bedroom door to find his wife bleeding from a bullet wound to her abdomen, police were told.

A .38 caliber pistol beside her was placed by Young on a shelf as a precaution and police and an ambulance were called.

Mrs. Young was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and later was transferred to the intensive care unit of Barnes Hospital. She was removed from the intensive care during the weekend. The extent of permanent damage to her back has not been determined.

1944-49.6 million. The country was faced with a shortage of ships for both the Navy and the Merchant Marine, a shortage which grew more acute because of the successful German submarine campaign in the Atlantic Ocean.

The demand for steel plates for merchant ships was so great that it was impossible to make enough of them on the country's plate mills.

Therefore, the continuous strip mill was pressed into service and its stands were adjusted so that plates could be made as well as strip.

A shear was installed after the last stand to cut the plates to size as they came through. Because the Granite City Steel Company had one of the few continuous mills in the country, it was quickly selected by the government for the production of such plates. In order to increase production, the Defense Plant Corporation bought land adjacent to the plant and erected three 180-ton open-hearth furnaces with attendant facilities.

It also installed a slab-heating furnace, two batteries of soaking pits adjacent to the slab mill, and transfer tables and other plate handling facilities at the finishing end of the strip mill.

The improvements, which cost $12,700,000, were leased to Granite City Steel for operation upon their completion in late 1943.

During the war, the local company's entire production was subordinated to the need for ship plates. Sale of hot rolled sheets declined substantially, and manufacture of galvanized products was discontinued entirely.

From the beginning of 1940 to the middle of 1945, additions to the plant were relatively minor. Another stand was added to the continuous mill to enable the rolling of a lighter gauge product. This improvement was finished in March 1941 and was financed by a supplementary bank loan of $350,000 made in 1940.

Another improvement was the electrolytic tinning line.

Before 1937, and for all practical purposes before the Second World War, tin plate was made by the hot dip method throughout the industry.

A sheet of steel was cut to size and passed through a bath of molten tin to be coated. This method required from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 pounds of tin for every 100 pounds of steel.

The electrolytic process, developed by the United States Steel Corporation at Gary, Ind., and the Crown Cork and Seal Company of Baltimore in 1937, placed tin on the steel strip by means of electrolysis.

The strip was passed through electrodes and was plated with tin. By this process, 100 pounds of steel could be coated effectively with one-fourth to one-half pound of tin, a tremendous saving.

Because the Granite City Steel Company had one of the few continuous mills in the country, it was quickly selected by the government for the production of such plates. In order to increase production, the Defense Plant Corporation bought land adjacent to the plant and erected three 180-ton open-hearth furnaces with attendant facilities.

It also installed a slab-heating furnace, two batteries of soaking pits adjacent to the slab mill, and transfer tables and other plate handling facilities at the finishing end of the strip mill.

The improvements, which cost $12,700,000, were leased to Granite City Steel for operation upon their completion in late 1943.

During the war, the local company's entire production was subordinated to the need for ship plates. Sale of hot rolled sheets declined substantially, and manufacture of galvanized products was discontinued entirely.

From the beginning of 1940 to the middle of 1945, additions to the plant were relatively minor. Another stand was added to the continuous mill to enable the rolling of a lighter gauge product. This improvement was finished in March 1941 and was financed by a supplementary bank loan of $350,000 made in 1940.

Another improvement was the electrolytic tinning line.

Before 1937, and for all practical purposes before the Second World War, tin plate was made by the hot dip method throughout the industry.

A sheet of steel was cut to size and passed through a bath of molten tin to be coated. This method required from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 pounds of tin for every 100 pounds of steel.

The electrolytic process, developed by the United States Steel Corporation at Gary, Ind., tons of coal. A total of 8,312 vessels passed through the canal in 1,293 lockages during May, the report showed.

These figures brought to 32,524 the total number of vessels passing through locks during the first five months of the year, compared to 27,586 vessels locked during the same five-month period of 1975, and to 5,205 the total number of lockages during this year, compared to 3,478 during the same period a year ago.

Freight shipments exceeded 5 million tons in each of February, March and April this year, the volume of each month showing a substantial increase over that of the corresponding month in 1975.

The report by the Army Corps of Engineers showed that in February, 5,029,004 tons of freight were shipped through the locks here, compared with 3,627,200 tons in February 1975. Total shipments in March increased to 5,233,107 tons, up from 5,116,188 tons in March 1975, and April freight volume this year amounted to 5,660,730 tons, compared with 5,261,906 tons in April last year.

January freight movements this year totaled 3,462,231 tons, compared with 3,042,315 tons in January 1975. January was the only month this year in which freight movements were less than 3 million tons. River traffic seasonally is slow during January each year.

Edgar and Johnny Winter at Festival

A performance by Edgar and Johnny Winter, a chamber music performance of works by Monteverdi, Vivaldi and Bach, modern dance with James Cunningham and the Acme Dance Company, an evening of science fiction films, and a performance by the Spinners with special guest Melba Moore are scheduled between July 14 and 20 at the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Winter brothers, performing Wednesday, July 14, will have as their special guests Starcastle.

Edgar and Johnny Winter are called two of rock's most consistent stars. Johnny, the older of the two, was the first to make it big, but brother Edgar wasn't far behind.

The two occasionally play together and, as Edgar puts it,

"Although our styles conflict, he's really fun to play with."

"For some reason, we have to find our directions separately, but somehow I feel we're meant to be together again."

Starcastle, the opening act for the Winter brothers, is a St. Louis-area group that hit it big nationally with "Lady of the Lake," the top cut from the group's "Starcastle" album.

A chamber music performance in SIUE's Meridian Hall this Thursday will have tenor Willard Cobb performing two Monteverdi arias, as well as bassoonist Robert Mott in Vivaldi's "Sonata for Bassoon and Continuo in B-flat major." There will be four works by Bach, featuring Mary Mott on harpsichord, Jacob Berg on flute and Janice Smith also on flute.

approximately 3.5 million gallons of sewage daily. Scoville said that if EPA officials approve the plan, the levee district will apply for a Step II grant, which would provide funds for design planning of a transmission line that would carry sewage from the Landowine Plant to the Granite City secondary plant.

He said it would be designed to bypass the Landowine plant even for primary treatment, sending the sewage to the Granite City plant for both primary and secondary treatment.

Estimated cost of the project has been fixed at $2.6 million, Scoville said.

The project would be separate from plans that have been advanced in a regional approach to secondary treatment problems in the East St. Louis area, he added.

He said that the levee board expresses its appreciation "to Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City and Alderman Clyde Boyd, for helping us determine this plan." He said that the officials have given the levee district a notice of intent to work on rate schedules and other details.

Scoville noted that the fees resulting from use of the Granite City plant "will make the entire project more economical for everyone, including Granite City residents who built the plant."

SUPE police said Hendrick was stabbed during a fight involving several persons near the Food Service area at the River Festival site.

Officers said the cause of the fight was not initially determined, and arrests will await further investigation. The stabbing was reported at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Also receiving hospital treatment in an unrelated case was Dan Buck, Ladue, Mo.

After treatment by the University Health Service, Buck was taken to Christian Brothers Hospital, St. Louis, where he required 12 stitches in his nose and other treatment. He is the son of Broadcaster Jack Buck.

Buck told university police the men who approached him became hostile when he told them he didn't want to buy drugs and "never used the stuff." He said five or six males assaulted him and a friend.

Buck notified police and later identified Martin J. Sontlemer, 22, Ferguson, Mo., as one of the men who assaulted him. Sontlemer was arrested and charged with aggravated battery. He was held in Madison County Jail in lieu of $15,000 bond.

30-day license suspension for Ricco's II

The Illinois State Liquor Control Commission has ordered Ricco's II Lounge, 2075 Nameki Road, closed for 30 days as the result of "cumulative evidence" of disturbances, including a fatal shooting and a stabbing on the parking lot near the lounge Dec. 8, 1975.

The order modified Mayor Paul Schuler's order that the lounge's license be permanently revoked. The lounge has been allowed to remain open during the appeal to the state commission, which lasted nearly seven months due to several postponements and delays.

Thomas Murphy, chairman of the state liquor commission, said the order leaves it to Schuler, who also is the city's liquor control commissioner, to determine when the 30-day license suspension is to begin. Schuler has not yet received official notification of the commission's order.

Officials are attempting to determine the motives of two drivers who disregarded a guard at the main gate to the Granite City Army Installation at 5:15 p.m. Thursday and then tried to run the guard over minutes later.

The truck drove around the base for a few minutes and then returned to the main gate. The guard said when he attempted to stop the truck, it tried to run over him. He fired a shot at the truck after it passed outside the gate.

The truck left east on Nineteenth Avenue and turned right on Spruce Street. Neither it nor the car was seen again by authorities.

If the interest checks you receive semi-annually on your Series H Bonds are payable to "John Doe or Mary Doe" they are payable to alternate payees and require only your signature. You may continue to cash these checks even though your husband is deceased. Most jointly owned securities call for the registration form "John Doe and Mary Doe." Interest and dividend checks received from these sources must be signed by both registered owners.

Although you may be able to cash the checks received in payment of your Series H Bond interest, you should have the bonds reissued. To accomplish this take the bonds to your local bank. This bank will have them reissued for you in one of two ways: in your name with a co-owner, or in your name payable to your death to a beneficiary.

Camelot Auction expected sellout

The Camelot Auction, held jointly by the Granite City Rotary and Optimist clubs, is expected to be another sellout, according to Steven Bristol, president of the Rotary Club. Presiding at his first meeting of the club, Bristol reported that solicitation of goods to be auctioned has started and many items already have been donated.

The annual benefit dinner and auction will take place at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2, at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Proceeds from the auction are used by the two service clubs to help finance many charitable causes in the Quad-

Cities.

President Bristol thanked Chairman Daniel Partney and everyone who helped with the Granite City Rotary Club float that was chosen for a first place award in the Bicentennial parade.

It was announced that the YMCA is seeking two homes for one month, each to house a foreign student. According to Bristol, there will be one student from Thailand and one from Japan coming here under a YMCA program.

Rotarian Richard West will present a program on Ecology at the club's meeting Tuesday, July 13.

Act to cut vandalism, thefts at building sites

The Illinois State Police are joining forces with Southern Illinois Builders Association in an effort to crack down on mounting equipment thefts and vandalism plaguing the construction industry.

The SIBA Crime Prevention Committee met with officials from the Illinois State Police Crime Investigation Bureau in Springfield, seeking closer cooperation between the state police and SIBA members.

SIBA has increased its activities to deter theft and vandalism by making available to the state police copies of the Serial Number Location Guide for Construction Equipment and the Superintendents' and Foremen's Guide for use in the 17 state police headquarters throughout Illinois.

The Association also has contacted the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, the Illinois Association of Sheriffs and the National Auto Theft Bureau to enlist their support.

Lieutenant Robert Klemme of the Illinois State Police Crime Investigation Bureau has urged all contractors to contact local law enforcement agencies before the start of a building job.

Trooper Gallo of the Illinois State Police District, Maryville, urged that contractors inventory all equipment by serial number.

Equipment without serial numbers should be identified by the company president's driver license number, he said.

"Report all losses over $150 to state police so that the information on the stolen items can be fed into the FBI National Crime Information Center."

Every state police headquarters is tied into the system," Gallo noted.

Ralph Korte, president of Korte Construction, Highland, and chairman of the SIBA Crime Prevention Committee, estimated that, nationally, more than $100 million in construction equipment and materials is being taken from construction sites each year.

Reports to the association indicate that SIBA members are experiencing large losses due to theft and vandalism.

Authorize revision of SIUE benefit policies

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University has been authorized by the trustees to act on a proposed revision of sick leave and disability benefits policy for faculty-administrative staff members as soon as constituency groups have had an opportunity to respond to the proposal.

The proposal was submitted to the board Thursday, meeting at SIUE, on the recommendation of the System Council Personnel Policies Task Force, of which the president of the SIUE-Carbondale Faculty Senate and the president of the SIUE-Edwardsville University Senate are members. The presidents of both universities and the general secretary of the SIUE System also recommended approval, but General Secretary James Brown explained there had not been sufficient time for the matter to have been submitted to various constituency groups for approval.

The board is not scheduled to hold another regular meeting until September, and to expedite the matter, trustees approved the proposed change in principle and authorized the executive committee to act as soon as constituency responses are received.

The matter proposes to amend the policy by providing 10 calendar days of extended sick leave and disability benefits for each year of service prior to July 1, 1974, and 10 calendar days for each year of service subsequent to July 1, 1974.

The present SIUE System sick leave policy provides for "annual sick leave and disability benefits of two calendar months equivalent to at least 60 calendar days with pay per contract year," and for a graduated accumulation rate of "extended sick leave and disability benefits," based on years of service prior to July 1, 1974, and for each year of service after that date up to a maximum of 300 calendar days. Extended benefits which have not been claimed are credited toward retirement.

Howlett to push for school text book loans

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, said Friday night he will press for full funding of Illinois' new textbook loan program for public and non-public schools.

"The textbook loan program, enacted by the General Assembly in 1975, is the most recent — and potentially the most substantial — aid to nonpublic schools allowable under the constitution," said Howlett.

"The law provides for loan for secular textbooks, free of charge, directly to students, whether in public or nonpublic schools, when they or their parents request it."

"Full use of the program is now limited by the state's financial condition. What was originally a $27 million program has been reduced to $7 million for this year. The Illinois Office of Education has established rules for phasing in the full program over four years.

"For this fall, the program calls for free textbooks only for the first three grades of elementary school. After four years, it will cover all grades from kindergarten through the senior high school year."

"As governor, I would press for the full program. I would support programs the law allows and our state revenues would permit, to help nonpublic as well as public schools."

"Of all the boys and girls in Illinois elementary and high schools, about a seventh attend nonpublic schools. Helping the nonpublic schools to survive eases the burden on all the taxpayers of Illinois."

"If nonpublic schools were forced to close, it would then become the obligation of the public school system — with financial problems of their own — to educate the boys and girls who would be forced to transfer."

"Under the First Amendment, the Supreme Court has consistently ruled that public funds may not be used to support parochial schools."

"But the court does permit legislation which has a secular legislative purpose, which neither advances nor inhibits religion and which avoids government entanglement."

"The Illinois textbook law is modeled after a Pennsylvania law which the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld as meeting its guidelines. If challenged, we could expect the Illinois law to be upheld."

"The textbook loan program should save parents of nonpublic school children $1 million in the coming year and nearly $4 million a year when the full program takes hold."

"Textbook loans, and other public aids, are only a small fraction of what it costs to educate a student. But anything we can do to keep the nonpublic schools going also helps to keep the public schools open."

"Illinois state government finances are now in crisis. The crisis would be worse if students now in nonpublic schools were added to the taxpayers' load."

Investigating two dentists

An investigation by the Illinois Department of Public Aid has isolated vouchers submitted to the IDPA by two Chicago dentists who netted $307,060 for filling the teeth of 55 patients at $20 a filling.

They are investigating vouchers for one dentist who received payments for 383 fillings in 169 teeth of 33 patients—averaging two fillings per tooth, and of another dentist whose claims indicated he filled 143 teeth 274 times in 22 patients—averaging 2.6 fillings a tooth.

Shannon Lynn Short is baptized

Shannon Lynn Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger (Antoinette) Short, 2400 Nameoki Road, was baptized last week at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

The Rev. Edward Groesch officiated at the 12:30 p.m. service. Godparents were Miss Kathleen Lancaster and Domingo Valencia.

The infant was born March 28 at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She is the Short's first child and her birth creates the fourth generation in five families.

On her mother's side of the family, Shannon Lynn is the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Josef Galvan of Granite City and John Thomas of Arkansas and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Conception) Tinsley of Granite City.

The infant has three great-grandparents in the father's family, Mrs. Milre Feyerabend of Jerseyville and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Marvel) Short of Havana, Ill. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene (Geraldine) Short of Granite City.

For the baptismal service, Shannon Lynn was dressed in a gown worn 55 years ago by her grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Short.

Made of fine white rain soak cotton with hand crocheting around the neck and sleeves, the dress was given to Mrs. Short by her grandmother, the late Mrs. U. S. Davis of Bloomington. Its companion slip also was crocheted around the hemline.

In keeping with the nation's Bicentennial anniversary, Mrs. Eugene Short was attired in a long gown more than 100 years old which was made by her late grandmother.

The blue, two-piece dress was secured with brass hooks and eyes and featured a deep velvet insert on the bodice, widening from the waist to meet lace flares at the shoulder line. The sleeves were trimmed in velvet and lace at the wrists and ruffles bordered the bodice edge over a full skirt.

After the christening, a barbecue dinner was hosted at the Short home. A large Dutch doll cake in red, white and blue centered the serving table and the dwelling was gaily decorated with Bicentennial streamers and bunting.

Attending the dinner were Joyce Short, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tinsley, Jeff Tinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Short, all of Granite City; Mrs. Milre Feyerabend, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feyerabend, Miss Sherrie Feyerabend and John Nugent, all of Jerseyville; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Short of Havana, Ill.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Brookridge Country Club in Overland Park. The rehearsal dinner was held at the Rowdew Inn there.

After a wedding trip to the Ozarks region, the couple is now at home in Olathe, Kan.

Linda Thompson becomes Mrs. Floyd Ridgeway Jr.

Miss Linda Lou Thompson and Floyd E. Ridgeway Jr. were married June 12 at the First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. David Evans performed the 6 o'clock evening ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Willard L. Thompson, 2915 Indiana Ave. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ridgeway, reside at 4110 Bruene Drive.

Music for the double ring service included "Follow Me," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," "My Sweet Lady" and "Amen's Song."

Given in marriage by her brother, Bruce Thompson, the bride chose an Empire silhouette gown of ivory organza. The deep sheer yoke on the front and back bodice was bordered with a wide ruffle of Cluny lace. A smaller ruffle edged the high neckline. Floral Venise lace with pearl etchings was applied on the yoke.

Cluny lace eyelet created the bodice and the close-fitted sleeves of Cluny had vertical rows of diamond-shaped pearl clusters from the shoulder to the cuff. A wide front panel of Cluny, inserted with diamond-shaped clusters, centered the floor-length skirt to the lace-bordered hemline.

A three-tier veil of ivory illusion, each tier edged in Cluny lace motifs, was secured to a hand headpiece of two ruffled rows of lace. She carried an arrangement of fresh daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Karen Foy was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Thompson, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Earline Robinson and Mrs. Jackie Gubser, both sisters of the groom.

The attendants selected rainbow colored gowns of muslin cotton made with a lace trimmed neckline dropping to a low V in the front and a comberbund encircling the waist. Butterfly sleeves, elbow-length, were of sheer eyelet Cluny lace and a wide lace ruffle bordered the hem of the long skirts.

Each attendant carried a long stem ivory rose with baby's breath, entwined with ribbons in a color to match her gown.

Tom Sampson was the best man and the groomsmen were Robert Douglas, Don McNew and Mike Presley. Seating the guests were Larry Harris and Ronnie Briggs.

The bride's mother appeared in a full-length A-line gown of mint green tulle, with inserts of matching Venise lace on the draped bodice and at the high neckline. Mrs. Ridgeway, the groom's mother, was attired in a pearl pink peau de soie skirt, floor-length, trimmed with pearls, crystals and matching pink beads.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Long Lake Volunteer Firemen's Hall in Pontoon Beach.

The former Miss Thompson was graduated in 1971 from Granite City High School. She is employed as a sales assistant at John Blair and Co., St. Louis. Her husband, a 1968 Granite City High School graduate, is a chemist at McDonnell Douglas Corp., St. Louis.

The couple is now at home at 3815 John Glenn Drive.

Levee board appointments under new law are due next November

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Operation of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, of which the Quad-City area is a part, is expected to be administered by the remaining three members of the levee board until reorganization of the district under a new state law is accomplished later this year.

The five-man levee board was reduced to three members by the deaths of two East St. Louis trustees during the past year—Ronnel Wilbon and Charles E. Meyers. Both were elected in 1972.

Wilbon was found dead last summer in a hotel room in New Orleans, La., while vacationing, and Meyers died after an apparent heart attack in his home in East St. Louis ten days ago. Both were prominent political figures in East St. Louis.

Because there are only four months remaining in which the levee district will be operated under its present system of administration, there are indications this week that efforts will be made to fill either of the vacancies before reorganization of the district under a new state law sponsored by State Rep. Monroe Plinn of the 57th Legislative District (St. Clair County) and enacted into law last year.

Political sources noted that at the time of Wilbon's death there was more than a year of his term remaining to be served, and therefore would have required a special election to fill that vacancy. Meyer's post, however, could be filled by appointment by Governor Dan Walker, since there was less than a year of the term remaining at the time of his death.

Remaining members of the former five-man board are William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice; Russell Robinson of Granite City; Jack Scoville, National City, now board president. While this would appear to give the Quad-City area a "board majority" for the first time, administrative action will require the affirmative action of all three remaining members to win approval. Under existing law three members are required to constitute a quorum, and a majority of three votes is required to approve any action.

The levee district has operated in its present form since 1907 when the bi-county tax agency was established to build and maintain levees, drainage ditches, pumping stations and storm sewers to prevent interior and river flooding. The district includes East St. Louis, Canteen, Stites and Centreville Townships in St. Clair County and Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and part of Chouteau Townships in Madison County.

The district has a controversial political history and since the late 1950s has been a Democratic stronghold, both as a patronage and vote-gathering base.

During the past decade, since the district was deprived of the authority to issue bonds at will without a referendum, the district has been beset by mounting financial problems, with annual operating deficits often exceeding $600,000.

Efforts several years ago to separate the district along county lines, with St. Clair and Madison Counties operating their own districts, resulted in legislation favoring the separation. Such a bill was passed in 1972 and signed into law by then Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

But in June 1973, the Illinois Supreme Court, acting on an appeal of a Madison County Circuit Court decision, held the split-up law was unconstitutional.

Legislation to abolish the old district and form a new one was passed by the General Assembly in 1974 and was signed by Gov. Walker. That bill provided that the incumbent members of the levee district board would serve out their terms, which expire in December this year.

The trustee posts will not be subject to re-election under the new law, but instead will be filled by five commissioners appointed by the County Board chairman of St. Clair and Madison Counties. As in the past, three St. Clair county commissioners and two Madison County commissioners will be named. The law provides that the majority of three members are named from the county having the highest assessed valuation. At present, Madison County is only slightly more than $1 million less than the St. Clair County assessment.

The law establishing the new levee district provides that the chairman of the two county boards shall appoint their respective members of the five-man commission within 30 days prior to the first Monday of December.

This means the appointments must be made by Nov. 5 this year, the new commissioners will take office on Dec. 6, the first Monday of the month.

The law also guarantees the county having at least two Republicans to the new levee board. Madison County will name one Republican and one Democrat, and St. Clair County will name two Democrats and one Republican.

On the day that the new commissioners take office, the old district, as it formerly operated, is legally dissolved and the new administration will succeed to all property, functions, causes action, rights and obligations of the old district.

The new commissioners may, if it chooses, change the name of the district by ordinance.

Encephalitis alert

Dr. Joyce Lashof, director of the state health department, last week issued a St. Louis Encephalitis (SLE) preliminary alert to Illinois residents.

"While at this time the findings of the Early Warning Team indicate there is no imminent danger to human health," she said, "the potential for human cases later this summer appears to be present."

The alert was issued following a July 2 SLE surveillance report from Dr. Gary Clark, coordinator of the state's warning team. SLE antibodies were detected in blood samples collected from three juvenile birds—near Alton, near Olney and near Taylorville.

"Although the SLE antibodies were detected in only three of 94 juvenile birds tested," Clark said, "it is significant in that these birds were born this year, and therefore infected with the virus this year."

"It is also significant," Clark continued, "that the areas where these birds were found are widely scattered across the central and southern portions of the state."

Dr. Lashof is urging communities throughout Illinois to increase mosquito abatement efforts with emphasis on larval control (the elimination of the Culex mosquitoes while still in the larva stage). She is also urging Illinois resident to take personal precautions to eliminate mosquito breeding sites.

She advised them to remove from their yards or premises any item which can hold even a small amount of water, such as flower vases, rubber tires, etc. "These small puddles of water," she explained, "are ideal breeding places for the Culex pipiens mosquito, primary carrier of the St. Louis Encephalitis virus."

"Items which cannot be removed," she continued, "such as bird baths, should be emptied daily and re-filled with fresh, clean water."

"Tall grass and thick shrubbery where small, unseen puddles can form should be cut or trimmed."

In cases where puddles of water cannot be eliminated or flushed out on a regular basis, a small amount of heating oil, such as that used in oil furnaces, can be applied to the water surface. The oil will kill any mosquito larva that might be floating on the water."

12 hours for designation full-time

Students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville must register for at least 12 credit hours to be classified as full-time students, according to a code of policy amendment approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees, meeting at SIUE.

Previously, students registered for 11 credit hours were classified as full-time.

The action of the board also modified the textbook rental fee to eliminate an additional $2 rental charge assessed to students who register for 17 hours or more.

University officers said the redefinition of a full-time student brings SIUE in line with the full-time student status requirements of various financial aid programs, including the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, the Illinois Veterans Scholarship, the Illinois Guaranteed Loan Program and others.

Officers said the additional textbook rental fee was dropped because revenue from the category during the past year has been insufficient to offset the costs of administering the fee.

Textbook rental fees which will be continued are: $4 for one to five hours; $7 for six to 11 hours; and $10 for 12 hours or more.

Stajduhar pitches no-hitter

Glen Carbon Post 435's hopes of staying alive in the race for a spot in District 22 American Legion post-season playoffs brightened Thursday evening when Tony Stajduhar hurled a no-hitter against Mascoutah, blanking the visitors 5-0.

The win snapped a six-game losing streak for Manager Art Jovi's Legionnaires as Stajduhar fanned 11 batters and walked 11.

"He seemed to glow on his performance under pressure," said Jovi, "pitching his way out of bases loaded situations with only one out on three different occasions."

The right handed hurler allowed two batters to reach base in the opening inning, and three in each the second, sixth and seventh innings.

Glen Carbon collected 11 hits and fielded without an error.

"After all those losses," said Stajduhar, "we needed a lift because we were really down in morale."

Following a scoreless first inning, Glen Carbon was sparked by Catcher Brian Sikes' solo home run in the second and relief pitcher Bill Dickerson's triple which drove in Ed Schmidt who had singled.

Sikes singled in the third before scoring on Ed Schmidt's double which put Glen Carbon on top 3-0.

Dickerson run scored in the fourth when Stajduhar and Joe Gulash both singled, and Richard Schmidt reached base on an error which enabled Stajduhar to dash home. The error was on Mascoutah's second baseman who bobbled the ball.

Another error on the visitors' base in the sixth allowed Glen Carbon's final run. Matt McCullough drew a walk, Gulash singled and McCullough crossed the plate when the fielder again bobbled the ball and then threw it over the third baseman's head.

Dickerson headed the hitting with three. Collecting two hits each were Gulash, Sikes and Ed Schmidt. Richard Schmidt and Stajduhar had one each.

HURLS NO-HITTER. Glen Carbon's Tony Stajduhar (on mound) falls off the dirt hill as he delivers the baseball which struck out the opposing batter in the top of the second inning with two men on base.

Thursday evening. The Granite City hurler pitched a no-hitter enroute to blanking Mascoutah 5-0.

Individual homeruns highlighted Mercer' wins of both ends of a twinbill here Sunday over Fairfax. Mercer's Fairfax which moved the local squad into first place in Illinois Inter-City Baseball League standings. Mercer won 7-1 and 5-1.

After scoring a run in the opening inning, Mercer's Dennis Harrington, blasted a two-run homer in the third, and Jim Greenwald hit a lead-off homer in the fourth inning before Mercer added two more runs in that frame.

East-West championship races on Horseshoe Lake

The waters of Horseshoe lake will be "burning up" as the Granite City Kiwanis Club's East-West Pro Championship boat races are held Saturday and Sunday, July 17 and 18 on the lake near the intersection of State Aid 35 and Highway 111. The three-lap, approximately one-mile course, will have the hydroplanes skimming the top of the water at speeds up to and exceeding 100 miles-per-hour.

The Outboard Central Professional Racing Association will conduct the regatta. Members of the Kiwanis Club are selling tickets at $1 each. Hydroplane classes racing will be: 125 cubic centimeters, 250cc, 350cc, 500cc, 725cc, and 1100cc. C service hydro also will compete. They are 11 foot boats with 22 horsepower stock motors which have been converted from a pleasure-type into a racing motor. Runabout classes racing are: 250cc, 350cc, 500cc, 725cc and 1100cc. C service runabouts also will race. The runabouts travel about 10 m.p.h. slower than the hydroplanes, according to Kiwanian William Seebold, chairman of the event.

"We have been conducting races 15 years and this one is shaping up to be the best ever. We have drivers coming in from everywhere," he said. "The thrills and action will please anyone coming to see the races and watch the hydroplanes flying above the water, touching down for a split second as the props push them at speeds that will reach 100 m.p.h.," Seebold said.

Some of the nationally-known race drivers expected are: Stan Leuendusky Jr. of Kansas City, Kan., national C Service champion; Todd Brinkman, of Springfield, Ill., world and national champion in C Service runabout and hydro; Ralph Donald of Marrietta, Ga., 25cc and 350cc hydro and runabout champion; and Rich Krier of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the 1973 national 500cc runabout champion.

Others include Wayne Baldwin of Alice, Tex., 725cc hydro straightaway record holder at 110 m.p.h.; Rex Hall, of Liberty, Mo., 1100cc Hydro Western Divisional champion; Paul Bogosian of Granite City, 500cc runabout national runnerup in 1976, and Tom Kirts of Elkhart, Ind., 725cc national runabout champion in 1974. Proceeds from the races are used by the Kiwanis to support local charitable activities.

Tows increasing hazard for boats

With the increased use of inland waters by recreational boats this season, there has also been a tragic increase in the number of fatal accidents resulting from collisions between recreational boats and low boats, the U.S. Coast Guard reported today.

"Some of these accidents could probably have been avoided if the recreational boater had exercised caution and avoided close situations with the tows," a spokesman said. "Recreational boaters should be aware that towboats maneuver with difficulty, and it takes great distances for them to stop."

"Because of these factors, a sudden loss of power by the pleasure boater in the path of a tow usually results in a loss of life and property."

"The U.S. Coast Guard urges all recreational boaters to give tows a wide berth and to especially avoid crossing in front of barges. Recreational boats always come out second best when a collision occurs with a tow."

Experienced riders due here tomorrow

American Motorcycle Association sanctioned racing returns to the quarter-mile dirt oval at Tri-Cities Speedway tomorrow evening, starting with time trials at 7 p.m., with many of the regular riders here direct from Midwest Regions action last week at Hinsdale, Ill.

Former Tri-City champion Randy Clerk of Shawnee, Okla. placed eighth in the regional program, behind Mike Caves of Galesburg, Ill. Mike Kidd of Fort Worth, Tex., took runnerup honors to winner Steve Eklund of San Jose, Calif.

Eklund, a strong contender for Camel Pro Series "rookie of the year" laurels had little difficulty in defeating the other riders.

In the expert class field also at Hinsdale were Terry Poovey of Garland, Tex., a feature race winner here this season. Belleville's Chris Mertens finished fourth in Novice Class competition.

Defending Tri-City champion Danny Kline and team still recovering from a broken foot suffered earlier in the season during a race here. He expects to return to competition sometime within the next three weeks.

Cougars in world soccer tournament here Aug. 8-15

Four perennial college soccer powers will compete in the tourney—St. Louis University, the University of Missouri-St. Louis, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Quincy College of Illinois.

In a double-elimination format to be played at soccer fields throughout the metropolitan area they will meet Quebec Select, French-Canadian all-star team from Quebec province, the Canadian National Youth Soccer Club; Mackenzie University of Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the Caracas-based Venezuelan National Youth Soccer Club.

Games will be played at various sites each day except Monday during the Sunday through Sunday tournament. Games will be played at Koch Park, Florissant; UMSL; SIUE; Mullally Field in South St. Louis, and Francis Field at Washington University.

A JOYFUL MEMORY. Wood River's Larry Kirkpatrick beams with joy after victory in the feature race last month at Tri-City Speedway during a special sprint car racing program. Standing with him is Marshall Yost, race director. Mr. Kirkpatrick succumbed Thursday afternoon to injuries received July 4 in a crash at Riverside Speedway in West Memphis, Ark.

Larry Kirkpatrick will be missed in starting lineup

By Ken Thompson
Press-Record Staff Writer

Many of the nation's top-ranked sprint car drivers will return to Tri-City Speedway Wednesday to compete in the second of a four-series special racing program on the half-mile dirt oval, including former series winner Bobby Jones of Danville, Ill., Chuck Amati and possibly U.S. Auto Club (USAC) campaigner Jan Ovegren.

Missing from the field when the 33 sprint cars take their positions on the front straightaway for a 35-lap feature race will be Larry Kirkpatrick, 28, of Wood River, winner of the last two sprint events—October 1975 and June 2, 1976.

A nine-year veteran of the Midwest racing circuit, Mr. Kirkpatrick died Thursday afternoon of injuries received July 4 in a crash during a 36-lap holiday race on the quarter-mile dirt oval of Riverside Speedway in West Memphis, Ark.

The 1963 Wood River High School graduate was running in third position at Riverside when he attempted to pass a slower car on the high side going into the corner.

The race car being passed drifted upward, causing Mr. Kirkpatrick to strike a wheel and become airborne. It crashed nose-first into the retaining guard rail before flipping end-over-end down the track.

Mr. Kirkpatrick reportedly suffered broken legs, a broken arm, chest and head injuries. He was taken to a Memphis, Tenn., hospital where he remained in an unconscious condition until his death.

A son of former racing stand-out Ned Kirkpatrick who was tagged with the nickname "Cigar smoking Irishman from Hartford," Larry was no stranger to violent crashes.

Once at Tri-City Speedway before a crowd of nearly 5,000 fans, he walked away from his race car with only a stiff neck after it flipped end-over-end, clearing three cars, in the fifth lap of a super-sprint feature race which was eventually won by his good friend, Web Spalding of Pontiac Beach.

On Aug. 22, 1971, at the Iowa State Fairgrounds, Mr. Kirkpatrick was heading into the final turn in a consolation race in a desperate attempt to grab sixth place, and a spot in the final race, when his car spun sideways and began flipping end-over-end.

The sprint car hurdled an inner fence and landed against a retaining fence. He suffered cuts, bruises and a smashed left wrist which sidelined him from driving for more than a year.

Joe Finley, current president of the St. Louis Auto Racing Association where Mr. Kirkpatrick began his racing career in 1967 driving his father's midge race car, recalls, "Larry was a super-driver."

"He never won a championship but always placed among the top 10."

In fact, he was nominated for "rookie of the year" honors with the St. Louis association.

Moving into sprint car competition in 1971, Mr. Kirkpatrick alternated his driving between cars owned by Lyle Hartzel of Mitchell and Ron Perkins of Alton.

Prior to his accident in Iowa, he drove both midges and sprint at Tri-City, winning a semi-main event in the latter.

He posted one of his best finishes in a race that year at Duquoin, Ill., when he finished fourth in a 50-lap holiday race on the one-mile dirt which also was captured by Spalding.

Following his layoff from racing, Mr. Kirkpatrick returned to the circuit in 1973 and the following year took runner-up honors to Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., in International Motor Contest Association (IMCA) point standings. The two were close together in the standings, that Utz was not assured of his championship until the final race date of the season at Shreveport, La.

Mr. Kirkpatrick broke into a feature race winners' circle for the first time of his career last year when he passed defending Tri-City Speedway sprint series champion Bobby Jones on the last lap heading toward the checkered flag.

He climbed into a race car owned by Bobby Sparks of West Memphis, Ark., early this year and began a trouble-plagued career in the USAC sprint ranks, having his best finishes at Eldorado Speedway in Rossgrove, Ohio, where he won a heat on June 9 and then a semi-main event on June 20 before placing 15th in a 40-lap feature.

Medical problems and crashes prevented him from placing in this year's Tony Hulman Classic, Hoosier 100 and other events.

Last month, Mr. Kirkpatrick posted his first "grand-slam" in racing, winning his heat race the handicaps event and then led Chuck Amati, Doug Wolfgang and Bobby Jones across the finish line in the feature race at Tri-City.

Indianapolis 500 race veteran Arnold Knepper of Belleville described the boyish-looking Mr. Kirkpatrick as "a fine young man."

"He was the type of man you would point out to your son and say 'you grow up to be just like him.'"

"Larry always kept his head in a race and he certainly wasn't afraid of speed."

A close friend recalls one time Larry didn't keep his head, but that was on the football field at Wood River High and not on a race track.

His friend related that Mr. Kirkpatrick was playing tackle position and was shaken up on a play.

"The coach checked him over and then sent him back into the game."

"When Larry tackled his own teammate on the next play he was taken to the hospital and found to have a concussion."

Mr. Kirkpatrick's constant companion on the racing circuit was his wife, Brenda, whom he had in high school.

He had his sights set on competing in the Indianapolis 500, the ultimate goal of any race driver."

Speaking of Mr. Kirkpatrick's career, Knepper noted, "This was Larry's year to really start moving."

"He had his sights set on competing in the Indianapolis 500, the ultimate goal of any race driver."

Local cagers aid all-state win

Madison's Ron Jones and Venice's Jacee Woolfork were among players aiding key roles Saturday night as an all-star "South" team defeated an all-star "North" squad twice, 82-81 and 96-82, in the Illinois Basketball Coaches' Association Class A and AA games at Normal-Bloomington.

While high school all-star Jay Shidder of Lawrenceville scored 21 points for the South team in the first contest, Jones added some clutch shooting in the final moments of play before a packed stadium of 7,000 fans. Jones scored 19 points in that game.

The Madison sharpshooter's two straight buckets in the second contest aided efforts by Alton's Leroy Stampey, Mascoutah's Steve Lanter, Edwardsville's Fred Barton and Shidder in winning. Venice's Woolfork provided six points for the South team.

3 share honors at Tri-City

Ninth-lap surges by drivers in both late model and sportsman stock car classes Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway resulted in victories for St. Louis drivers Kevin Gundaker and Kris Krohn. Larry Mullendore of Columbia, Ill., captured a midget 20-lap feature.

Gundaker took runner-up honors in the first late model heat race behind winner Web Spalding of Pontoon Beach, and then charged from the rear of the field in the main event to pass leader Jerry Sifford on the ninth lap to go on for the win.

Sifford placed second, Bill Myers third and Mike Hamme fourth to go on for the win.

Hamme won a trophy and Ralph Knox a semi-main event.

Sportsman class driver Kris Krohn won his first feature race in four years of racing after wrestling the lead from Granite City's Les Gibson on the ninth lap of that division's main event.

Gibson third and Jack Yates of Granite City fourth.

Krohn led Granite City's Chuck Milam and Yates under the checkered flag in a heat race, and Gibson beat Granite City's Don Alfaro across the finish line in a second heat race.

Midget division point leader Jon Backlund of Kansas City, Mo., joined Chuck Taylor of Mount Olive and Howard House of Kansas City as heat race victors, but took a back seat in the feature event to Mullendore following a battle most of the race between the four pilots.

Taylor finished second and Backlund third.

The second of a four-series special sprint car racing program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday on the half-mile oval speedway here. Sportsman division drivers will campaign at that time on the smaller quarter-mile track at Tri-City.

Rent grants will aid 248 Madison County families

A $1.2 million grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to provide rent assistance for 248 families to live in privately owned homes will be received by the Madison and St. Clair Counties' housing authorities.

Grant applications were approved by HUD June 29 with details still remaining to be finalized, according to Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, and William Pistrui, chairman of the Madison County Housing Authority Board.

The Madison County Housing Authority is to receive a first year grant of $380,764, enough to provide 248 rent subsidies, according to Ed Foley, Madison County Housing executive director. Foley said the authority is not yet accepting applications until further information concerning median income levels and other details are learned.

Foley expects to meet later this week with HUD officials in Chicago to finalize guidelines and procedures. Hopefully, the program will start this fall, he said.

Persons living in Granite City and Alton will not be eligible for the program because each city operates its own housing authority.

Both the Madison and St. Clair Counties' authorities can have the grants renewed for five years, making the combined funding nearly $6.2 million for the full period.

Low income elderly persons will benefit most from the program, Foley said. Sixty per cent of the funds will be allocated for rent subsidies to house the elderly and 40 per cent to family units.

Federal guidelines require that 30 per cent of all subsidies go to individuals and families who are considered in the "very low income" bracket under a HUD formula. The remaining 70 per cent will be available for "low income" persons under eligibility requirements already established by the Madison County Housing Authority, Foley advised.

Rent assistance grants will permit these meeting income standards to spend only 25 per cent of their income for rent. The rest of the rent will be paid for by the grant program.

Under the program, a person must be renting and not own a home to be considered eligible. The housing authority will certify the income and eligibility of an applicant.

Once certified, the applicant then goes out on his own to find housing on the private market, or a family could apply the rent to its present housing accommodations, Foley said.

The authority has to inspect the home to see that it meets specific standards to insure the government is not paying subsidies to a slum landlord. The tenant and landlord then enter into a lease, with the rent not exceeding certain limits. Rental figures must include all utility costs.

If the authority approves and the family qualifies, the authority will mail monthly rental checks to the landlord for the subsidy. The family or individuals pay their share of the rent directly to the landlord.

Current low income levels established by the Madison County Housing Authority are: One person—$6,800 annual income; two persons, $7,800; three—$8,750; four—$9,750; five—$10,350; six—$10,950; seven—$11,600; and an eight-member family—$12,200.

Two girls abducted

Two 16-year-old Granite City girls took police Sunday that they had been abducted and taken to St. Louis about 9 p.m. Saturday.

One girl said they were near Kirkpatrick Homes when a 1976 black Chrysler stopped and the driver asked them if they wanted a ride.

Thinking they knew the driver, they accepted, but then noticed they did not know him. At their request, the driver took them to a house on Spruce Street. When they found a friend at that house was not at home, they asked to be returned to Kirkpatrick Homes.

Uniformed man abducts woman at gun point

Granite City police have launched an investigation into a Sunday abduction in which a woman of a uniform posed as a policeman and held a 19-year-old Granite City woman at gunpoint early Saturday.

Fire causes $10,000 damage

A fire which originated shortly after 4 a.m. Sunday in an upstairs bedroom of a two-family dwelling owned by Katherine Reynolds, 2117 Edison Ave., spread throughout the home, resulting in $7,500 damage to the building and $2,500 loss of contents.

Firemen who fought the fire for more than two hours have not determined the cause.

A Bob Thomas Mortuary ambulance was called to the scene when it was believed persons may have been trapped on the second floor, but a check of occupants discounted the report.

Post 113 tops Blytheville, bows to Cape Girardeau

Tri-City Legion Post 113 split two games during the weekend in non-league action at Cape Girardeau, Mo., losing 10-6 Saturday to the Missouri squad and winning 10-5 Sunday over Blytheville, Ark.

The local Legionnaires had a 6-4 lead over Cape after four innings, but a five-run rally by the hosts in the seventh spelled "doom" for Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion's charges. Walks to Tom Henrich and Keith Champion and a wild pitch enabled Post 113 to score in the first inning.

Another runner scored in the third when Henrich, Jeff Scarborough, Keith Champion all walked and John Pritchard provided a sacrifice fly. The local Legionnaires collected its three game hits in the sixth while scoring four runs. Pritchard doubled, Mike Clark singled, Kirk Champion reached on a fielder's choice and all advanced on a sacrifice fly. Larry Hugo got a base hit, stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch.

Jim Goodyear, Kirk Champion and John Lakin shared the pitching duties Sunday in defeating Blytheville. They were backed with seven hits in the contest, including five in the third inning which resulted in five runs for Tri-City. Keith Champion singled, Paul Evans doubled, Pritchard singled, Mike Clark singled and a runner scored on Goodyear's sacrifice fly.

In the sixth, three runs scored when Scarborough, Keith Champion and Pritchard all walked, and Eldon Warfield, Clark and John Kerkovich all collected hits.

Leading by one (8-7) after six innings, walks to Scarborough and Keith Champion and hits by Evans and Pritchard provided two seventh-inning runs. Tri-City faces three straight District 22 American Legion League games, at O'Fallon at 6 p.m. tomorrow, and here against Collinsville at 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

News notes

Milton Thompson, director of state museums, has expressed concern that less emphasis will be placed on research at Cahokia Mounds State Park Museum, since control of the park and the archeological research program has been transferred to the Illinois Conservation Department.

East Side Levee district trustees have agreed to install a new burglar alarm system in its East St. Louis offices and garage, a move that will save an estimated $30,000 annually in salaries of guards. The Granite City office and garage already has such a system.

Denver Hurt dies at 53

Denver Hurt, 53, of 18324 State St., was pronounced dead at home by Edward Werner, Madison County deputy coroner, at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Neighbors found Mr. Hurt lying on the kitchen floor. He called the police, who reported he apparently died of a heart attack and there were no signs of foul play. An inquiry will be conducted.

He was born in Cannel City, Ind., and was a veteran of World War II.

Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Three charged at Venice

A Venice man and two Madison men were arrested by Venice police Friday in the 1200 Block of Klein Street, after their auto was stopped when one of the men allegedly was observed driving at 3:10 p.m.

Arrested were James R. Cross, 40, of 200 Jefferson St., Madison; the driver, and Lloyd Hemmingsway, 44, of 909 Jefferson St., Madison, a passenger in the auto.

Each were charged with illegal transportation of liquor. Sherman Lee Clemons, 31, of 1038 Logan Ave., Venice, also was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis, unlawful use of weapons, and no firearm owners identification.

Upon noticing a bulge under a jacket worn by Clemons, a 12-gauge sawed-off shotgun was recovered, and also what appeared to be cannabis, according to police.

The Illinois Commerce Commission has issued new regulations designed to prevent another major freight yard explosion such as the one that destroyed 1,000 buildings and injured 200 persons in East St. Louis in 1972 and a similar one in Decatur, Ill., in 1974 that killed seven persons. The new regulations prohibit free-rolling coupling operations involving two types of tank cars used to transport liquid petroleum gases.

Jimmy Carter has promised Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley he will campaign in Downstate Illinois for the state Democratic ticket headed by gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Hovelt. Daley endorsed Carter June 8 after the latter won the Ohio primary election.

The Illinois delegation to the Democratic National Convention, which opens today in New York City, caucused Sunday afternoon and selected Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley as chairman. Despite a fight to have a downstate caucus, Daley was chosen as a suburban Chicago woman was named.

A special session of the Illinois General Assembly, called Friday after the regular session adjourned July 2 without acting on two measures, turned into a marathon of caucusing and party bickering over a bill to raise the total amount of capital development bonds the state could sell to finance building projects.

Quad-City and Madison County taxpayers will receive two tax bills for payment this year, with both of them due on Sept. 1. Delays in preparing bills resulted from extended Board of Review Hearings and a computer changeover. In the past, tax bills have been payable in two installments, one on June 1 and the other on Sept. 1.

Third Circuit Associate Judge Robert Francis cited a 1965 Supreme Court decision in dismissing a lawsuit Thursday that charged Sunset Hill Country Club with racial discrimination. Attorney Dick Mudge Jr. said he will file revised pleadings in an effort to rescind Judge Francis' dismissal of the suit.

Albert J. Degand, 23, of Calumet City, Ill., serving a 3-to-10-year sentence on Illinois charges of aggravated assault, pleaded guilty to kidnapping in U.S. District Court Friday.

Degand admitted Friday that he forcibly took a 17-year-old South St. Louis girl across state lines to Madison County last December. Degand faces a maximum possible penalty of life imprisonment.

Avery Schermer has been reappointed to his second, three-year term, as a member of the Tri-City Regional Port board by Illinois Governor Daniel Walker. Schermer, who is serving as treasurer of the authority, received notification of the reappointment Friday.

These business people can help you manage the one thing most businesses don't manage:

Energy

Like all utility companies, Illinois Power Company has no control over the demand for energy. Rather, the peaks and valleys of energy demand are established by the working and living habits of our customers.

So, like all utilities, we have to keep investing in larger plants and distribution systems to meet the growing peak demand, which occurs only at certain hours and certain days. Much of the time our system is used well below its peak capacity. And, as any businessman knows, a capital investment in equipment that is not fully utilized is very costly.

A better, more efficient use of the energy capacity that serves you will be in everyone's interest. And that's what load management is all about. It simply means applying basic management principles to a neglected area of business: the use of energy. Load management is the way our country can continue to have the energy needed to create jobs and capital and a high standard of living—without austerity or restrictions on energy use.

We've made extensive studies of the science of load management. We'd like to share this knowledge with our industrial customers. Ask your IP Area Manager to discuss this important matter with your company officials.

Boards favor selective layoffs

Governor Daniel Walker and the Illinois State Board of Education have been asked to help school boards keep the authority to lay off teachers on the basis of qualifications rather than seniority.

The request came from the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB), an organization representing 935 Illinois school boards. IASB President Howard Thompson, in a July 6 letter to the governor, asked that he veto a legislative amendment that would make seniority the sole criterion in making staff reductions. Thompson is a Prophetstown school board member.

Harold P. Seamon, IASB executive director, made a personal appeal at the July 8 meeting of the State Board, saying that school boards "must have the authority to retain the most competent and qualified staff if they are to represent the best interests of students."

In a public statement, Seamon criticized Illinois Senate Democrats for "bowing to pressures and tacking an amendment on a bill that revises the school aid formula."

The amendment changes existing law, which allows school boards to lay off teachers on the basis of ability, training and experience. The provision to go strictly by years of experience in the district was attached to the aid formula bill and passed by both houses of the General Assembly.

The seniority amendment applies to school districts which must lay off teachers because of declining student enrollments or the elimination of courses and other programs.

Seamon listed seven reasons why boards want the amendment vetoed:

1. "The seniority amendment requires school boards to ignore the relative skill, training and experience of available teachers. Seniority is certainly a factor that should be considered in such decisions, but it is only one factor. Consequently, school boards will be forced to let go many of their finest teachers and to keep many who are not as skilled or as well qualified."

2. "Under the seniority amendment, an eighth grade teacher would take the job of a first grade teacher by virtue of slightly more experience in the district. There is a vast difference between teaching eighth grade students and first grade students. A mathematics teacher who is also certified to teach chemistry would replace a highly-qualified chemistry teacher because of a few months' seniority in the district, even though the math teacher had not taught chemistry for many years."

3. "Existing tenure laws protect all but the most incompetent teacher. Only where layoffs are due to reductions in staff size can school districts distinguish between average performance and excellent performance. The seniority amendment makes it illegal to use teaching performance as a factor in deciding which teachers to retain."

4. "Teachers will be reluctant to give up their seniority in order to accept a job in another district. Seniority will become the major consideration in all employment decisions."

5. "Many collective bargaining contracts contain procedures for handling teacher layoffs. These procedures are mutually acceptable to the school boards and teachers involved. But they will be worthless if the seniority amendment is signed into law."

6. "Under the seniority amendment," Seamon said, "the last hired must be the first fired. This will destroy school board efforts in hiring teachers from minority groups and in eliminating sex stereotypes from different kinds of teaching assignments. The effectiveness of these affirmative action programs will be destroyed."

7. "Decisions on layoffs should be made locally—where the students and teachers are located—not at the state level. The public is demanding effective school management, but the seniority amendment and similar laws take away school boards' authority to provide any kind of management at all."

4-year dental classes on main SIUE campus voted by SIU board

A long-range planning proposal for the School of Dental Medicine of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved today by the SIU Board of Trustees. The plan will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education for review.

The plan includes capital projections for a new health professions facility on the Edwardsville campus to include the School of Dental Medicine, the School of Nursing and the Student Health Service.

Included also is a capital request for a satellite dental clinic at the East Side Health District building in East St. Louis and a supporting services building at the Alton facility, where the School of Dental Medicine currently is located.

The capital requests total $24,323,000, and completion of all projects included in the plan is scheduled for Jan. 1, 1982. The plan places first priority on the satellite clinic in East St. Louis, for which funding of $167,000 will be sought in 1977-78.

The supporting services building in Alton, also to be sought in 1977-78, is estimated at a cost of $114,000, but the project has lower priority than the health professions facility on the main Edwardsville campus. The plan includes expansion of the dental clinic medicine program to 64 students and a four-year academic schedule. New and expanded program requests that have been approved by the Board of Trustees but not acted upon by the Illinois Board of Higher Education are included for information (oral pathology, endodontics, pedodontics, periodontology), and additional program proposals are included for long-range planning purposes. These include certificate programs in oral surgery and prosthodontics and family practice dentistry.

The School of Dental Medicine's educational program was initiated in 1972 with an entering class of 24 students.

Temporary facilities on the university's Alton campus, formerly Shurtleff College, are being used, with a continuing program of renovations in the buildings, which date back as far as 1832.

The size of the entering class has been gradually increased to 48 this year. University officers said the class size cannot be increased further in the existing buildings, and the structures are considered inadequate for a permanent facility.

According to the long-range proposal, inclusion of the School of Dental Medicine, School of Nursing and Student Health Service in a permanent health professions facility on the Edwardsville campus will permit utilization of specialized health care facilities at a centralized location, benefiting these and other units of the university.

University officers said development of a satellite dental clinic in East St. Louis is considered complementary to the community service functions of SIUE and the School of Dental Medicine. According to the plan, clinical facilities would be continued at the Alton campus after the health professions facility becomes operational on the Edwardsville campus.

An area in the central core of the campus, north of and in the proximity of the Science and Technology Building and Lovejoy Library, has been selected for the health professions facility.

Earlier planning had placed the site for the dental school east of the main parking lots, at a marked distance from the central core of the campus.

Officers said the new location has been selected "to enhance the involvement of the schools in the physical environment of the university, so the interactions among students, faculty and staff can occur with a minimum of inconvenience."

The long-range plan includes a justification for the move of the School of Dental Medicine from Alton to the Edwardsville campus. The reasons cited include:

"It would bring the School of Dental Medicine from its isolated location into the university environment. This would permit the coordination of new construction with the School of Nursing and the Student Health Service. These areas also lack necessary space and facilities on the Edwardsville campus.

"The campus location would permit the coordination and integration of educational and patient care programs among the professional health areas and services of the university."

"This central location of the School of Dental Medicine in the region would provide greater access to and from area resources for pre- and post-doctoral educational programs and patient care activities."

"The duplication of many supporting services would be eliminated."

"The present generalist clinics would be maintained as a satellite clinic to serve the Alton community. The other vacated buildings would be used as indicated by university administration."

"The faculty, staff and students of the School of Dental Medicine would be part of the university community rather than be physically set apart at an isolated location."

At present, the School of Dental Medicine has a three-year program, but officers said the program will be modified to a four-year program as soon as facilities are available and the entering class size can be increased to 64.

They said the enrollment projection is based on anticipated future need for dental graduates for Central and Southern Illinois.

The plan reports that the faculty of the School of Dental Medicine voted overwhelmingly to go to a four-year program. Reasons cited included: "students would gain more professional maturity over the four-year span," and "there would be less pressures on students and faculty."

Curriculum time would be increased by about 500 hours under the four-year program.

Approve funds for SIUE television

A supplemental new and expanded program request of $470,000 for operating funds for WSIE Television in fiscal year 1978 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

The program request is contingent on final legislative approval of $1.5 million for development of the broadcast facility and transmitting tower. The matter currently is under consideration by the Illinois General Assembly.

University officers explained that if the legislature and governor approve the funds for construction of transmitting facilities, additional funds will be required in fiscal year 1978 to hire professional personnel and to purchase and contract for needed support services. Officers said the professional staff would need to begin advanced preparation in programming, program development, scheduling and community service projects in Fiscal Year 1978. Support funding is related to the operating expenses of such a facility and to acquisition of a needed film library and other materials.

Final action by the legislature and signature by the governor will permit the implementation of plans for the construction of the transmitting facility and will supply the funds needed for application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) for federal matching money.

It was explained that the $1.5 million from Illinois and the HEW funds will be used to purchase land and to construct the broadcast tower and transmitter Operations money, asked in the new program request, is not available from either of the other public fund appropriations.

The original development of television facilities at SIUE was authorized by the SIU board in August 1968. The television production studios have been operational more than five years.

Career Advisory Council to elect

An election of officers and plans for the 1976-77 school year will be among the principal items of business to come before the Career Advisory Council of Granite City School District 9 at its meeting Tuesday.

Council members will convene for dinner at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at Charlie's Restaurant, followed by the business session and discussion period, according to Don Shaffner, coordinator of the Granite City School District's Off-Campus Program.

In addition to electing new officers, the group will review plans for the fall and discuss an employers' workshop, publicity progress and follow-up procedures, Shaffner said.

Those unable to attend the dinner meeting are asked to call 877-1512 or 451-2666, station 48 or 68.

The Career Advisory Council consists of employers, former student participants in the Off-Campus Program and others interested in the Extended Classroom Program. The group was established to augment the professional personnel working with the high school students. Evaluation of the overall program, both from the student and employer aspect, is among the council's tasks, Shaffner explained.

He had been ill two years and was a resident at the nursing facility for the past 12 months. Born in Belleville, Mr. Straubinger lived in Granite City for 22 years. He retired some years ago from General Steel Industries, where he was employed as a clerk.

Student rights studied

The rewriting of suggested policy on student rights and responsibilities of the Granite City School District is one of the current projects of the district's Citizens' Advisory Committee, according to Ed Edwards, president of the committee for three years since it was formed in May 1973.

He was the guest speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club. "One of the things that I think has made our work more meaningful is the actual involvement of students within the committee. Their input has real value," Edwards said.

The committee made an extensive survey among the citizens to determine the strengths and weaknesses of the school system, and made several suggestions that were adopted by the Board of Education, according to Edwards.

Current projects being studied are the district's declining enrollment and the smoking police at the high schools.

Arthur Roseman, who returned last week from the Optimist International convention in Washington, D.C., was presented a plaque for his work with the Granite City Optimist Club since it began in 1957. The award was made to Roseman by Patrick L. Grady, president of Optimist International.

Msgr. Balke named bishop

Pope Paul VI has appointed Msgr. Victor H. Balke, 44, as rector of the Diocesan Seminary of the Immaculate Conception (Springfield, Ill.), as bishop of Crookston, Minn. The appointment was announced in Washington, D.C., last week by Archbishop Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate in the United States.

Msgr. Balke, son of Mrs. Ben Balke of Meppen, has been associated with the Diocesan Seminary for the past 13 years. He has taught rhetoric, literature and Latin at the Seminary and at Springfield College in Illinois. He was appointed procurator of the Seminary in 1964 and rector in 1970.

Pope Paul named him an honorary prelate, with the title of monsignor, in April 1974. He is presently serving as a member of the Diocesan Matrimonial Tribunal, as chairman of the Commission of Ecumenism, and as secretary-treasurer of the Diocesan Priests' Senate.

He was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Springfield by former Bishop William A. O'Connor on May 24, 1958.

He attended St. Louis University, where he earned a doctor of philosophy degree in English.

Kachigian in opera production

The Midland Repertory Players of Alton, under the direction of Kaye Shanahan, will celebrate the country's 200th birthday and also its 10th season of opera by presenting two operas by American composers, "Down in the Valley" by Kurt Weill and the premier performance of "The Red Death" by St. Louisian Robert Rignoli.

They will be performed on Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17 at 8:15 p.m. at the Barn, five miles west of Greenfield, Ill. Admission is $3.25. Drivers follow Route 67 through Alton, turn left at Sycamore Street in Greenfield, and follow opera signs for five miles.

"Down in the Valley" is the story of Brack Weaver and his love for Jennie Parsons, a love that leads him to the gallows for the slaying of Thomas Bouche, and of his breakout of jail to visit Jennie.

In the cast are Marci Hempel as Jennie Parsons, Barry Parsell as Brack Weaver, Larry Brant as Thomas Bouche, Amerik Kachigian as the leader and preacher, Michael Christy as the guard, Robert Brandt as Peters, and George Shanahan as Jennie's father. Kachigian is a Granite City attorney.

"The Red Death", which is set in an early medieval time, is based on the Edgar Allan Poe work, "The Masque of the Red Death," and deals with man's fascination with the subject of death, prompted by his curiosity about the hereafter.

The composer, Robert Rignoli, will sing the role of the troubadour in this, his first opera.

He was born in Milan, Italy, and came to this country at a young age, having performed with the Midland Repertory for the last three seasons.

Others in the cast are Michael Christy as Prince Prospero, Peggy Baltzer and Sam Varble as Elena, his wife, Debbie Mintert and Violet Kimball as the square, Mary Ann Brokey as the mother, Susan Saale and Karen Tappey as the major domo and Sandy Plummer as the second square.

Urge contributions for Chouteau center

The Bicentennial Committee of Chouteau Township will increase their efforts in the next few weeks to raise money for purchasing equipment for the proposed township community center, a spokesman said today.

Volunteers who have been appointed to collect funds at the present time are Joe Stefanoff, Angie Brown, Ruth Jensen, Harry Breckner, Morris Miles and Betty Lavelle. Volunteers still are needed in the areas of Chouteau Island, Long Lake, Sunny Dell Acres and Rae Jean Subdivision.

All money collected will be used to buy tables, chairs, kitchen equipment and other equipment which might be needed in the center. The center, expected to be completed in October, will accommodate approximately 400 people.

It will be used for youth groups, senior citizens, meetings, receptions, and community functions.

At the present time, contributions have been coming in very slowly according to Miss Lavelle, chairman of the township's Bicentennial Committee. She also said the equipment is very expensive and equipment of a lesser quality may have to be purchased if the committee does not reach its goal.

The committee is concerned about the possibility that this less expensive equipment will not hold up under constant use. Two unexpected donations were received recently, one in the name of Ida Hanfelder, a long-time resident in the township who is now in a nursing home, and an anonymous gift of $25 in memory of Mae Hawk, who was former postmaster in the Mitchell area.

All of the volunteers are employed during the day and most of them have families, so collections are being made during the evening hours. Since the area is so broad, it is taking a great deal of time for each volunteer to canvass his area. Miss Lavelle said, "It would be helpful if anyone wishing to contribute would either call Betty Lavelle at 797-0492 or send a check made out to the Chouteau Township Bicentennial Committee, Box 980, Rural Route Two, Granite City," she said. All contributions are tax deductible, she added.

Miss Lavelle stated that if everyone in the township would contribute at least a few dollars, the committee would reach its goal.

"Most people do contribute to many fund-raising drives, but we feel this is an opportunity to do something for the people in our own area."

"We feel this is an appropriate Bicentennial project since the center will not only be known as the 'King of Swing,' but future generations as well. This area has long been a place where everyone worked together when there was a need in the community. We hope to see that same spirit in this project," Miss Lavelle said.

Honorary degree to Goodman on Sept. 2

Clarinetist Benny Goodman, nationally recognized for more than a quarter-century as the "King of Swing," will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of music by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Authority to award the degree was granted Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

Goodman will accept the degree at the university's summer commencement exercises Thursday evening, Sept. 2, according to SIUE Acting President Andrew J. Kochman.

The internationally-known orchestra leader and his current musical organization, the Benny Goodman Sextet, appeared at the Mississippi River Festival on the SIUE campus June 24. During that afternoon, he visited with Dr. Kochman and campus leaders who were active in development of the recently-established National Ragtime and Jazz Archive at the local university.

The citation accompanying the Board of Trustees resolution states:

"Benny Goodman was born May 30, 1909, in Chicago, Ill. He was a student at Lewis Institute in Chicago and studied clarinet with Franz Schepp of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. 'Mr. Goodman began his music career, which led him to be known as the 'King of Swing,' by spending his early years playing with jazz groups in Chicago, one of the cradles of jazz."

"He organized his own orchestra in 1933, and subsequently was known nationwide as one of the 'big name' orchestras of the 1940s and 1950s. In addition, he performed on radio shows and appeared in several movies."

"His contribution to American music, however, greatly exceeds the parameters of these accomplishments."

"As clarinet soloist, orchestra leader, composer and arranger, he produced music from the 1930s to the present which has had enormous influence on the American music form, jazz."

"Mr. Goodman was the first white band leader to employ black musicians in his orchestra and to introduce the electric guitar in a major dance orchestra. He has discovered and launched the careers of many new singers and instrumentalists who later became established as distinguished personages in the music world."

"He is an eminent performer of classical music, performing as clarinet soloist with the Budapest String Quartet in New York, the Philharmonic Symphony and the Rochester Symphony, and he has appeared with the London Philharmonic Orchestra."

"Internationally known and recognized, Mr. Goodman has served with the United States Department of State in the Cultural Exchange Program tour of Russia, has toured Europe with British musicians and has served as goodwill ambassador on a tour to the Far East."

"Benny Goodman is recognized nationally and internationally as truly preeminent in the music world."

LAST REMAINING BONDS outstanding on the Labor Temple, 2014 State St., are presented by Charles R. # Two quit village posts

Jerry Henderson, zoning administrator for the village of Pontoon Beach, and Freeman Clinar, a member of the village flood control committee, resigned their posts Thursday night over a disagreement with the Pontoon Beach Village Board on a building permit.

The resignations were accepted unanimously by the board during the regular Thursday night meeting. Village Board President Floyd David Moss was absent from the meeting.

In his resignation letter, Clinar told the board, "My resignation is a direct result of interference from some of the board members that have no idea at all what the committee functions are."

"Pontoon stands to lose not only some federal money, but could lose some much-needed financing on new or used homes," Clinar's letter stated. "A village board member contended the interference was over a building permit for a condemned house on Victoria Drive near the Clinar and Henderson homes."

He said Henderson had held up the permit to a man attempting to repair a house in that block and Clinar tried to halt the permit being granted.

The board member said the village board could not see any reason why the permit should not be granted and issued the permit despite the recommendations against it by the two.

Henderson did not submit a written resignation, but Village Clerk Mary Warren told the board Henderson had told her verbally he was resigning.

Henderson told the Press-Record he refused to grant the permit until the state fire marshal, who condemned the burned-out building, assured him it legally could be rebuilt.

Henderson remains on the village street light committee and is chairman of the flood control committee.

In other business, the board tabled a request for a street light, noting it had been two or three years since the village's lighting needs were studied and the street light committee was requested to consider re-evaluating all of the village's present lighting needs.

Another request for a building permit at 18 Tulip Avenue was approved.

The board was told that the village has not been collecting from residents whose property has to be moved by the village street department.

On advice from attorney Paul Guzzardo, the board agreed to issue a citation to all property owners whose yards need mowing, and then to mow the yards if the owner does not comply.

The village then can collect for the mowing, or can file a request for a court judgment if the bill is not paid, Guzzardo told the trustees.

After being informed the village's dump truck is no longer safe for heavy loads, the board agreed to advertise for bids on the purchase of a good, used, late model dump truck.

They also agreed to seek bids for a used tractor with a brush hauler.

The board studied two price proposals for the purchase of a five-watt walkie talkie for the police department. Without seeking bids, the trustees agreed to purchase a walkie talkie and charger for $670 from General Electric.

A village ordinance allows the board to make purchases up to $1,500 without competitive bidding.

Trustee Duane Skinner recommended the village appoint June Copchak, Mary Warren, Don Patrick and Rosewell Bennett Jr. as the first members of the new Growth and Development Committee.

Trustee Donald C. Rea is preparing a resolution outlining the duties of that committee, which is designed to promote growth, annexation and commercial development in the village.

The board approved the members suggested by Skinner and agreed to let the committee select its own chairman.

GC youth hurt on SIUE campus

Edmund Michael Szczepanik, 18, is in critical condition today at Wood River Township Hospital, where he is being treated for injuries suffered when hit by an auto.

The pedestrian was listed in critical condition at the Wood River hospital following the accident at 11:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Szczepanik, of 2329 Gary Ave., Granite City, was struck while crossing North Drive on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by a car driven by Matthew Christian, St. Louis.

According to SIUE police, Szczepanik was placed in the intensive care unit at the hospital following surgery which lasted for three hours. Suffering severe head injuries, he did not immediately regain consciousness.

Christian was issued a ticket, and a complaint was filed against him for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Szczepanik is a spring graduate of Granite City High School South and has been accepted as a student at SIUE.

State traffic deaths climb

Traffic fatalities in Illinois for the first six months of 1976 showed a slight increase over the same period last year, according to provisional reports of the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police.

During 1975, January-June, 887 deaths were reported, compared to 906 this year, a two per cent increase.

June 1976 fatalities numbering 161 are a decrease of 10 per cent from the 179 reported for the same month last year. Madison County had four June fatalities.

Single-vehicle accidents in June in Illinois claimed 82 lives in 80 accidents.

This total includes 16 pedestrians killed in 15 accidents, seven pedalcyclists killed in seven accidents, and 12 motorcycle accidents.

Forty-three drivers or passengers were killed in 42 single motor vehicle accidents, and four drivers or passengers were killed in four railroad crossing accidents.

Multiple-vehicle accidents accounted for 79 lives in 69 accidents. Twenty-two motorcycle-motor vehicle accidents claimed 23 lives. All other accidents involved two or more motor vehicles.

There were 11 multiple-fatality accidents: 10 two-death crashes and one three-death accident.

Local unit becomes official radio team

The recognition of The Free Spirits C.B. Radio Club of America, P.O. Box 28, Mitchell Station, Granite City, as an official REACT team has been announced by REACT Headquarters in Chicago.

REACT is a community program to provide organized citizens two-way radio communications in local emergencies. An independent non-profit public service program, REACT's objectives are (1) to provide a supplementary system of radio communications for local emergency situations and (2) to promote correct and efficient use of citizens radio.

More than 40,000 participants are organized into approximately 1,000 REACT teams in the U.S. and Canada.

Coordinating the Granite City area effort will be Lee Riley of Glen Carbon, who is president of The Free Spirits C.B. Radio Club of America. Riley said that the group is working toward a schedule of monitoring the official emergency channel 19 24 hours a day for the purposes of relaying emergency messages to the proper authorities.

"In many communities, citizens two-way radio has proved the difference between life and death," Riley pointed out. "From an accident scene on a remote country road, a citizen whose car is so equipped can instantly alert an ambulance, a doctor and a hospital staff. He can also save precious moments in disaster situations where emergency oxygen or a resuscitator is needed."

"Citizens radio has many other community uses as well as possibilities in the event of national disaster," he added. "Through organized effort, we expect to utilize its potential more fully."

Hospitals, ambulance operators, mortuaries, doctors, veterinarians, farmers, newsmen, industrial plants, service companies, taxicabs, firemen, policemen, sportsmen and deliverymen particularly benefit from citizens radio.

The Free Spirits are now accepting applications from responsible C.B. operators, who have a sincere interest in helping other citizens of the area. Those interested may write P. O. Box 28, Mitchell Station, Granite City, Illinois 62040.
